What is SLS TEFL?

Teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL) refers to teaching English Language to students with different first languages. TEFL can be taught either within the government school system, private schools, a language school or with a tutor. TEFL can also be taught in an English-speaking country to people who have migrated there (either temporarily for school or work or permanently). TEFL teachers may be native or non-native English speakers.

Other acronyms used are TESL (Teaching English as a Second Language), TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages), and ESL (English as a Second Language; a term typically used in English-speaking countries, and more often referring to the learning than the teaching).

We employ a curriculum approved and accredited by the Chonburi Provincial Education Authority (a division of the Ministry of Education, Thailand) and supported independent Thai ESL professors.

Our course is instructed by a highly qualified, university instructor with many years of teaching experience in Britain, the USA, Vietnam, and Thailand.

Each student is dedicated 8 hours of live practice teaching to ESL students

The TEFL course takes place over an intensive 4-week period. Our curriculum consists of a minimum of 120 hours theory including up to 8 hours of practical teaching. Details can be found at: http://slsteflschool.com/te/

How is the SLS TEFL Course accredited?

SLS is located in Thailand and is registered as a school governed by its laws and operates under the authority of the Ministry of Education, Thailand. SLS received authority to operate by passing through a rigorous approval and accreditation process. and subsequently obtained a license to teach an "in-class" course.

For the SLS course to become approved the support of three Thai university professors of English was required. If you plan to work in a Thai government school it is better to hold an in-class TEFL course certificate, and better still, one approved by the Ministry of Education, Thailand.

The Chonburi Provincial Education Authority (Ministry of Education) Thailand approved Salisa Language School (SLS) License no. 004/2557 on 27th August 2014

The Chonburi Provincial Education Authority (Ministry of Education) Thailand approved the SLS TEFL Course License no. 002/2561 on 20th February 2018

Why take part in the SLS TEFL Course?

At SLS we will show you how to teach students of any age or ability.

We will share with you the knowledge and expertise that will ensure you realise your capability as a proficient teacher of English.

We will actively assist you to pass the SLS TEFL course and in so doing, become a self-assured, effective and competent teacher, able to design and deliver lessons in a meaningful and informative way.

We will be consciously aware of your individual needs and will support you in achieving your goal. Our understanding and guidance, together with continuing professional development, will allow you the optimum chance of consistent and sustained success.

Where can I teach overseas?

Achieving our SLS TEFL qualification is a sign of quality. It is your passport to teach, not just in Thailand, but the world over.

In the past, most of our TEFL trainees have come mainly, although not exclusively, from native English speaking (NES) countries around the world, and perhaps more importantly, from all walks of life.

Indeed, some of our most successful teachers have surprised themselves by stepping out of their comfort zone into the exciting world of teaching. An increase in creativity and productivity and a new found zest of enthusiasm are some of the qualities that we regularly see in our students.

Why should I take an "in-class" course?

Online courses aren't accepted by some schools and not preferred by others. In-class courses are more acceptable in Asia.

The opportunity to practice teaching in real live school classes and businesses should not be missed.

The SLS TEFL course is directed towards teaching various students: young or older, in-school, one-on-one, business or corporate classes.

Social interaction with other students, peer observation learning, and face-to-face communication between you and your trainer are hugely beneficial during the SLS in-class course.

You will be in control of your class. Peer observation and trainer review will motivate your improvement and increase your confidence.

Hands-on, classroom management is a key component of the SLS course.

The best way for you to feel at ease as a teacher is by actually teaching, and most, if not all of our on-site course will include hands-on, practical experience, with real students. These sessions permit you to practice your teaching in a classroom environment, with lots of support. You will receive highly specific and useful feedback from your instructor, which you can then apply in future lessons.

One of the biggest hurdles for new teachers to overcome, is feeling comfortable in the classroom environment, and observed teaching practice is an invaluable way of overcoming this obstacle. Additionally, some employers will only accept certificates that include practical teaching time and may expect to see a trial lesson as part of the interview process.

The SLS "in-class" TEFL course teaching practice sessions are guaranteed to be either in our own classroom (with adult learners), or classrooms in a public/government or private school (with school aged children). Practicing teachers are given a range of students to teach. Our qualified instructor is in attendance to support.

How good is my TEFL Trainer?

At all times, Mr Cillian Hayes is our Academic Head of TEFL. He oversees TEFL trainers and teaches/instructs TEFL trainees.

He graduated in 1983 from the University of Newcastle with a B.Ed. (Honours) degree in Education and Professional Studies and later obtained further qualifications in Special Education and Clinical Psychology, from the University of Birmingham.

He began his teaching career in a comprehensive school as a teacher of geography and physical education and then moved into residential special education where he taught for eighteen years. As such, he has extensive teaching experience in both comprehensive and special schools.

CILLIAN HAYES

B.Ed. (Hons) Newcastle,
Dip. Clinical Psychology, Birmingham
Advanced Certificate in Education, Birmingham
TEFL Certificate
FA 'A' Licence Soccer Coach (UEFA "A" License)

Cillian is an experienced, professional, committed teacher with internationally recognised specialist qualifications in education and sport.

On moving from England to S.E. Asia in 2010, he became a sports instructor and English language teacher in Vietnam, and latterly a TEFL trainer at teacher training centre's in Pattaya, Thailand.

The skills acquired in pursuing his chosen profession successfully demonstrates a capacity to prepare and deliver relevant information to a wide variety of audiences.

What ideas could you consider for finding work in Asia/Thailand?

We hope that one day you'll enjoy the SLS TEFL course. If so, you'll find your trainer to have excellent knowledge in classroom management in Asia and elsewhere in the world. Prior to, and during the course you can consider these facebook links to find either classroom positions or online jobs in Asia.

One of our associates here in Thailand supports over 200 schools. Their specific requirements are that you are under 40, have a degree, TEFL/EFL certificate, and have prepared a current CV/resume'. We can send your information to the recruiter. Just send an email to info@slsthailand.com. Note however, there are jobs available in Asia for teachers well over 40 years of age.

There is the old standard website https://www.ajarn.com which is a great place to continue to look for jobs in Thailand.

It seems that the main requirement for ESL teachers in Thailand is to have an ESL qualification like the SLS TEFL Course Certificate, and have a degree in any faculty. However, there are jobs available for non-degree holders through "word-of-mouth" or "search-and-find" found by responding to advertisements on social media (i.e.facebook).

Finally, you may make inquiries with SLS at info@slsthailand.com for our view of qualifications, visa requirements and salaries, in countries where you may wish to teach.

Who are SLS's referees?

The best TEFL course in Thailand

As with all things in life, there's the good, the bad, and the reasonable. But once in a while you come across something very special, and that's exactly what happened when I came across SLS Training Centre in Pattaya.

Great school, great experience.

SLS has provided me with the guidance and knowledge to become an effective English Teacher. I would thoroughly recommend Salisa Language School.

The best TEFL course in Pattaya

Great location, first class teaching facilities, probably the best TEFL instructor in Thailand and wonderful practical teaching experience. Im now a confident and professional TEFL teacher. Thank you SLS!

- Chris

This TEFL course was both interesting and challenging. It has taught me a great deal about what it's like to be an English language teacher, and what will be expected of me. I wasn't sure exactly what teaching would involve and was very concerned about being hired without having any teaching experience.

The programme covers all aspects of Teaching English as a Foreign Language from the grammar focus to classroom management and Thai culture. After completing the course I feel I can confidently walk into any classroom or teaching environment with the knowledge and experience to start teaching. In summary, what an amazing programme! Excellent mentor, well-crafted curriculum, balanced training of theory and practical application. I will recommend SLS Pattaya to anyone who is looking at completing their TEFL certification. Very Impressive.
